

RESEARCH INTEREST

Evaluation of the relationship and interactions between rumen ecology and ruminant feeding systems with the aim of increasing the efficiency of production of ruminant animals (cattle, sheep and goats) from local feed resources through enhanced utilization by the reduction of fermentation losses.